

Bellarine 2050: Our Place, Our Future

Symposium Invitation

28 October 2011, 9.30am for 10am sharp / 12.00 midday finish
Terindah Estate, McAdams Lane, Bellarine
$10 per person includes light refreshments and local wines
RSVP by COB 24th Oct to committeeforbellarine@mail.com

The Bellarine has a past steeped in farming, land management, aquaculture, equine industry, recreation and tourism. The region is literally a 'greenfield' for sustainable development viable for all townships - not yet overdeveloped, overpopulated or destroyed by overuse and is a perfect environment of mixed-use inland areas with both bayside and ocean coastlines.

You are invited to the Symposium and participate in the development of a strategic framework aimed at supporting initiatives for the future growth of The Bellarine in a multiple stakeholders' environment.

Keynote Speaker:
Professor Hisham Elkadi
Head of School of Architecture & Building and Chair of Academic Board.

To be followed by your contribution to the panel discussion.

Symposium objectives:

- To identify current challenges, pressures and opportunities related to the future growth of the region;
- To define key issues in the region;
- To establish a Framework for the future growth of the region.
